One Device. All Functions.

Nano Market: Integrated sales and payment unit

A single device controls self-service at the coffee machine, from the locked refrigerator or snack box.

Small investment

CC combines complementary points of sale in a single device, saving you from investing in multiple systems.

Increase sales

CC can manage an unlimited assortment. The result of a wider assortment with high-margin products and the shortening of the buying process means a welcome increase in sales.

Sales promotion

Centralized control enables active product management, such as short-term price adjustments, promotions or the allocation of discounts.

Real-time inventory

The inventory and filling levels of the vending machines are centrally monitored around the clock, enabling a rapid response in the event of sold-out or expired products.

Cashless payment and topping up

The integrated payment system can manage the balance on employee cards (Legic, Mifare, HID, Mobile) both on and offline and allows payment with debit and credit cards, chip or mobile. Thanks to the integrated revalue function for employee cards, you save a separate charging station.

Scalable

CC adapts to your needs. The technical functions for payment, billing and handling can be individually configured depending on the customer and project.

Free choice of coffee machine

CC is compatible with practically all table top coffee machines (MDB, CCI) and functions independently of their operating concept.

Pay per use

As an operator, you only pay for the functions that you actually use at the location.

Accurate billing

Sales transactions are registered and can be transferred to any office and accounting program for statistical analysis.

Intuitive operation

The operation of the sales points via the large, multilingual touch screen is simple and intuitive.
